

Empowering Introverts, Inspiring Leaders: Unlock your potential with Richard Etienne

Introversion, leadership, and communication for senior management and businesses

Richard Etienne offers a unique perspective on leadership and communication, having worked closely with Heads of State, celebrities and senior executives who identify as introvert.

This is grounded in his personal experience as an introvert and his professional expertise as a communications consultant.

He provides practical strategies and actionable advice that empower introverts to thrive in a world that often favours extroversion. His presentations are insightful, engaging, and deeply impactful, creating a safe space for attendees to learn and grow.

My Journey

- Experienced workshop facilitator and public speaker for over 50 organisations.
- Award-winning* personal brand and communications consultant.
- Masterclasses Tutor for The Guardian and London Standard newspapers
- Former official videographer for UK Prime Minister Theresa May.
- Founder of The Introvert Space, a community interest company.
- Author of popular eBooks, including 'The Introvert Survival Guide'

* 2023 IoC Best Team of the Year winner | 2020 DIT Champions Award winner.
2019 Civil Service Skilled Peoples Award winner.

Testimonials

Iris Hofmann, Head of Operations, University of Oxford

"It was an honour to host Richard at the University of Oxford for a full day of workshops and seminars. His personal branding and confidence-building advice resonated deeply with our introverted staff and students. Richard's approachability and authenticity made him a true ally for diversity and inclusion. We hope to welcome him back soon."

Nicola Barron, Co-founder and Director at MDMB Creative

"I've worked with Richard at both the Guardian and the Standard, where he delivered exceptional masterclasses on introversion and personal branding. His sessions are insightful, engaging, and deeply impactful. Richard creates a safe space for attendees, ensuring they leave feeling stronger and more self-assured. A truly outstanding speaker and educator."

Target Audience

- Businesses: Organisations looking to create more inclusive workplaces, develop introverted leaders, and maximise the potential of their introverted employees. This includes HR departments, learning and development teams, and leadership development programs.
- Educational Institutions: Universities and colleges seeking to empower students and staff with communication and leadership skills, particularly those students who identify as introverted entering the workforce for the first time.
- Conferences and Events: Organisations hosting events related to leadership, communication, personal development, diversity & inclusion, and the future of work.

Topics

Introversion at work
Introverted leadership

Personal branding for introverts
Communication skills for introverts

Contact Richard Etienne today to book him for your next speaking engagement and empower your audience to unlock their full potential.

richard@theintrovertspace.com
+447872833998

<https://www.linkedin.com/in/richardetienne/>
<https://www.richardetienne.co.uk/>